DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Species I (Figures 1-2) comprising claims 8-22, 26 and 29 in Paper No. 8 am acknowledged.
2. Claims 1-7, 23-25, 27 and 28 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected Species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 8.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

- ✓ 4. Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Neither Applicants' disclosure nor drawings provide support for the recitation: "wherein the vertically extending handle extends from the frame to the patient restraint board". A glance a Figures 1-3 shows that the handle (78) does not extend "to" the patient restraint board (18).

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 3611

✓ 6. Claims 8-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

✓ It is unclear how the first member is adapted to couple to a patient restraint board and the second member is adapted to couple to a base frame in claim 9 if claim 8 has already recited that the second member is adapted to couple to the patient support at a second distance from the floor which is greater than the distance that the first member is coupled to the patient support at. This inconsistency persists in claim 10 in the recitation that the first member is couple to the vertically extending handle, claim 11 -- "the first member is slidably coupled to the...handle", claim 12 -- "the second member...adapted to hook onto a bedframe" and in claim 13 -- "the first member is...to hook onto a patient restraint board". It is believed that the terms referred to as the first and second member are reversed in claims 9-13 since the recitations referring to these terms are inconsistent with the recitation in claim 8 that the second member is coupled at a greater (vertical) distance than the first member.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 3611

8. Claim 8-10, 12-22, 26 and 29, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Japanese Patent Abstract 09024071, hereafter '071.

'071 disclose a propulsion device (1) having a coupler including a first, hook-shaped member (14, see Figure 4B) adapted to couple to a patient restraint board (see Figure 1) and a second, hook-shaped member (15) adapted to couple to a base frame/bedframe (see Figure 1), a handle (11), a frame (10) and a motorized wheel/plurality of wheels (12a, 12b)

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claim 11 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
